

Words: Mark Shipp

Bless the Lord, O my soul

Music: Konstantin Zhigulin

Psalm 103

mf

1. Bless the Lord, O my soul, and do not forget Him,
 2. He performs righteous deeds, judgment for injustice,
 3. Far as heav'n is from earth, Far as East is from West, —
 4. For he knows we are dust, He is mindful of our frame,
 5. God the Lord, mighty King, sits enthroned in heav-en;

mp

for He pardons all our sins He heals all our diseases;
 which to Moses he made known, and all of Israel; —
 just that far has he removed transgression from our souls; —
 like the flower of the field We fade and soon are gone;
 His dominion over all, Sovereign King eternal.

a.1
a.2

Bless the Lord, O my soul.

mf

He redeems from the pit, Crowns us with compassion,
 Slow to wrath, full of love, mercy and compassion,
 For he gives steadfast love to all those who fear Him,
 But the love of the Lord, ever-lasting mercy,
 Bless the Lord, mighty ones, an-gel hosts who serve Him;

mp

Sat-is-fies us with good things and so we are re-newed.
 He will not for-ever chide Or punish us for sin.
 as a father loves his child, He cher-ish-es His own!
 and His right-eous-ness He gives to all who keep His word.
 All cre-a-tion praise the Lord, O Bless His ho-ly Name!

a.1
a.2

Bless the Lord, O my soul.

p

Bless the Lord, O my soul, All that is with -

mf

Bless the Lord, O my soul, all that is with-in me

mf

in me, Bless His ho-ly Name!

Bless His ho-ly Name.